URGE WHEAT FARMERS TO REDUCE ACREAGE

CHAIRMAN LEGGE BEGINS INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN IN U. S.

UNLESS PRODUCTION IS REDUCED, BOARD CAN DO NOTHING FOR FARMERS

NO HOPE FOR EXPORT MARKET, BOARD HAS 100,000,000 BUSHELS ON HAND

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—Chairman Legge of the federal farm board has begun an intensive campaign to get wheat farmers to reduce their acreage next year, which he sees as the only salvation for depressed prices as the result of his experience with the present emergency.

The farm board chairman and agriculture department officials hitherto have recommended a 10 per cent cut in acreage, but Legge has issued a virtual ultimatum in which he said, in effect, unless farmers reduce their production there is nothing the board can do for them.

In a letter to Governor George F. Schafer of North Dakota, he pictured a very critical situation, pointing out there is no hope for an export market of any size, and that the board will have 100,000,000 bushels of grain on its hands at the end of the present year.

"If farmers are going ahead trying to produce an additional surplus on the basis that some way will be found to take care of it on a fair price level another year, they are going to be mistaken," Legge said, bluntly.

"If they will co-operate, the stabilization corporation will be justified in paying storage charges and carrying this wheat for a time in the hope that a crop shortage somewhere in the world will give them an opportunity to unload it, but, if on the other hand, the farmers' attitude is to let Legge do it all, the natural procedure would seem to be to dispose of this wheat the best they could write off the loss."

This, however, "would probably adversely affect the price of the 1930 crop," he added.

The farm board chairman hit at what some economists consider a weakness in the administration's farm relief machinery, that is, that nurturing by the government might lead farmers to produce a surplus with the expectation the government would see they get a fair price. Legge said, rather, plainly, that nothing of this sort must be expected.

Legge indicated in his letter that the government will take no further steps to bolster up the market until planting time, when farmers will show whether they intend to cut their acreage as he has asked.

He held out no hope for relief of congestion at terminal markets within 60 days, adding "the tendency seems for the congestion to become worse rather than better." This, he explained, is because other wheat exporting countries are liquidating the stocks on hand, and at prices below the American level.

Washington, March 12.—The request of President Hoover for a $100,000,000 appropriation for the federal farm board was approved today by the senate. It adopted without a record vote an amendment to the first deficiency bill providing that sum to carry on the board's stabilization program.

Minneapolis, March 12.—(U.P.)—Wheat prices crashed downward to new low records for the season on the Minneapolis board of trade today under unfavorable reports from Chicago, Liverpool and other world markets.

May wheat reached a low of $1.02 3-4 and July dropped to $1.00 1-2, both more than five cents below yesterday's close. The opening prices were $1.05 1-2 for May and $1.01 1-2 for July.

Traders said they had no confidence in a vague rumor that the federal farm board was selling wheat futures recently purchased by its stabilization committee. Many stop-loss orders were executed with the first fractional drop and tended to keep up the decline.

Demand of millers for cash wheat was considerably less than any day in the past week. All traders who did not get out from under the market to prepare for a crash were buying too cautiously to buoy up prices.

John Knutsen of St. Cloud Files for Congress

War Clouds in North China as Forces Assemble

SEEK HOOVER'S SUPPORT FOR 9 FOOT CHANNEL

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—President Hoover's support of a project to dredge a nine-foot channel through the Mississippi river from Cairo, Ill., to Minneapolis, was asked today by the Minnesota house delegation.

Mr. Hoover was represented as feeling that the deeper channel should be dredged through, perhaps not at once. He was said to believe work should be completed in gradual stages.

A six foot channel now is being dredged through the upper Mississippi but middle western interests feel this will not be deep enough to accommodate the river's potential commerce. They presented this view at a recent hearing before the war department board of engineers. It was estimated the nine-foot channel would cost $98,000,000.

TARIFF BILL, PROHIBITION, ENGAGE SENATE

WORKING TOWARD A VOTE TO RECONSIDER SUGAR DUTY, MAY COME ANY TIME

CLAUDIUS HUSTON QUESTIONED CONCERNING MUSCLE SHOALS ACTIVITIES

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—The senate and house returned to work today to find a number of important issues demanding attention after the two-day recess in respect for William Howard Taft, who was buried yesterday at Arlington cemetery.

The tariff bill, on the floor, and the questioning of Claudius Huston, chairman of the republican national committee by the lobby committee, were of major importance in the senate. Hearings were resumed by the house judiciary committee on bills to repeal or modify the 18th amendment.

The senate is working toward a vote to reconsider the sugar duty which may come at any time, and which is expected to have a direct bearing on the tariff bill as a whole. Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, author of the reconsideration motion, said he would call it up tomorrow but there was a possibility that some high tariff advocate might demand its consideration before that time.

The senate lobby committee called Huston to question him concerning his activities in connection with the Muscle Shoals lobby here. His name was linked with the lobby in a number of letters uncovered by the committee, and it was likely more than one day would be needed to complete his questioning.

Thirty women, leaders in feminine activities throughout the nation, advanced upon the house judiciary committee today, armed with three minute speeches attacking the repeal and amendment bills. It was the third day allotted the dries to answer previous arguments advanced by wet proponents of the bills. Mrs. John F. Sipple, Baltimore, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, was to be the first woman to speak.

The thirty "three minute women" were organized by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, Boston, chairman of the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement. A week ago the call went out to women over the country to rally in defense of prohibition and the list of witnesses, she announced, was the result. Included in the list are Mrs. Clarence Marshall Busch, Miami, president National League of American Penwomen; Mrs. F. L. Johnson, New York, president, Counsel of Women for Home Missions; Mrs. Jesse Nicholson, Chevy Chase, Maryland, president, Women's National Democratic League for Law Enforcement; Mrs. Grace Van Braam Roberts, New York, president, State Committee for Law Enforcement; President Mary Molloy of Mt. Holyoke College; and Mrs. William Titton, Beverly, Mass., legislative chairman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

On the floor the house resumed debate on a bill to regulate motor buses, which was brought up last week.

The senate commerce committee met to consider the award of mail contracts to shipping lines.

German Reichstag, by Vote of 266 to 193, Adopts Owen D. Young Reparations Plan

NEW REICHSTAG LAW PASSES BY VOTE OF 307-150

GERMAN-UNITED STATES DEBT AGREEMENT PASSED BY A RISING VOTE

OPPOSITION INCLUDED NATIONALISTS, FASCISTS, COMMUNISTS, ECONOMIC PARTY

By FREDERICK KUH (United Press Staff Correspondent)
Berlin, March 12.—The Reichstag, by a vote of 266 to 193, finally adopted the Owen D. Young reparations plan today.

There were three abstentions from the vote. The Young plan, adopted as a "final and complete" settlement of the reparations problem, was signed by Germany and her chief creditor nations in Paris last June. Under it Germany agreed to pay in annuities by 1988 a sum having a total present value of about 37 billion marks (roughly $9,000,000,000).

The Reichstag voted after Chancellor Herman Mueller, in behalf of the government, had defended the Young plan vigorously, insisting on its passage.

Within at least two months, the Young plan probably will be in operation. It will be up to President Paul von Hindenburg to decide whether the plan shall become operative immediately or briefly delayed.

All the opposition parties jointly moved that Von Hindenburg defer promulgation of the Young plan laws for two months. The motion was assured of passage, as it required the support of only one-third of the deputies.

However, the government parties prepared a counter-motion characterizing the Young plan laws as "urgent" which was certain to obtain the necessary majority, thus leaving the decision to the president.

Subsequently by a final, all-inclusive vote, the Reichstag passed the Young plan, the moratorium clause and the Belgian mark agreement, 274 to 192, with three abstentions.

The new German state railways law, in conformity with the Young plan, was passed by a final vote of 299 to 156, with three abstentions.

The German-United States debt agreement was passed by a rising vote. Those against were the Fascists, nationalists, communists, economic party and small scattered groups.

The Reichstag adopted on final reading the new Reichsbank law conforming to the Young plan. The vote was 307 to 150, with three abstentions.

"That way, you will be able to save up $200 to pay your fine. Then, in the fall when work becomes scarce again, you can go back to jail and serve 30 days more."

SEARCHING FOR MISSING CASHIER

HILMER HANSON REPORTED TO BE IN FLIGHT THROUGH SOUTHERN MINNESOTA

St. Peter, Minn., March 12.—(U.P.)—Search was extended to southern Minnesota today for Hilmer Hanson, 21, bookkeeper of the Nicollet County Bank of St. Peter, who disappeared Monday after he was entrusted with $5,000.

The first clew to the direction of Hanson's flight was received today from Mankato, where he was reported to have purchased a coat with a new $20 bill late Monday.

E. H. Lindberg, cashier of the Nicollet County Bank, said Hanson may have turned about and returned to the Twin Cities from Mankato, but he believed the bookkeeper fled through southern Minnesota into another state.

The missing funds included $1,000 in $20 bills, $2,000 in $5 bills and $2,000 in $10 bills. The numbers of the currency were unknown.

NEGRO BAPTIST MINISTER, PRECINCT WORKER, MURDERED

Chicago, March 12.—(U.P.)—Another precinct registration has become political history, leaving police another murder to solve.

The Rev. William Slaughter, Negro Baptist preacher, a precinct worker in the 42nd ward, was shot fatally last night as he left a West Division street polling place. He was reported to have been a member of the Mayor William Hale Thompson organization.

Police arrested John Panpinala, whom they said was a Deneen precinct worker, in connection with the shooting. They charged Panpinala followed the Negro out of the polling place, uttering threats and that Slaughter fell after a volley in an alley a short time afterward.

BANK GROUP HEAD DENIES UNITS GIVE UP INDEPENDENCE

PAUL LEEMAN, IN FIRST BANK STOCK CORPORATION REPORT, ASSAILS CRITICISM

MEMBERS JOIN ORGANIZATION ON THEIR OWN VOLITION, DECLARES THE MANAGER

Minneapolis, March 12.—Taking issue with "uninformed criticism" of group banking, Paul J. Leeman, vice president and general manager of the First Bank Stock Corporation, declared in his first annual report today that claims that various banks composing the group have sacrificed their independence are "absolutely untrue."

The critics' misas extended to claims that the operations of unit banks, including their local loans, are directed from the head office of the corporation, he said.

"The banks are corporately just as independent as they were before they became affiliated with the corporation," Mr. Leeman declared. "They are operated and directed by local men for the benefit of the communities they serve and from which they derive their business."

The corporation had a net operating profit in 1929 of $7,282,652, or more than $241 a share of stock, the report showed. Excess earnings over dividend requirements, however, will be held in the various banks as surplus.

"In expanding the First Bank Stock Corporation system, we are maintaining the position of affording opportunity to the independent bank upon its own volition to affiliate with the corporation, and new affiliations are being accomplished only upon this basis," the report said.

"The growth of the group is evidence that the independent banker recognized the benefits to be derived by association with this organization. Negotiations for the affiliation of a number of additional banks are now pending."

The corporation December 31 had 85 affiliated banking institutions in 60 cities of the northwest, with 42 banks in 21 Minnesota cities, 13 in 11 Montana cities, 15 in 15 cities of North Dakota, 12 in 10 South Dakota cities and three in three Michigan communities.

C. T. Jaffray is chairman of the board of the First Bank Stock Corporation and George H. Prince is president.

CONDITION OF QUEEN VICTORIA IS SERIOUS

IS PURCHASER OF LIQUOR GUILTY OF BREAKING DRY LAW?

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—Attorney General Mitchell today asked the United States supreme court to decide whether a purchaser of intoxicating liquor is guilty of violating the national prohibition act.

The decision would provide a test of section 6 of the Volstead act, which many enforcement authorities hold makes the buyer equally guilty with the seller.

Mitchell filed with the court an appeal from the recent decision of Judge Morton of the U. S. district court at Boston in the case of the United States against James E. Farrar, which held that a purchase is not a crime.

BODY OF TAFT NOW RESTS IN AN ARLINGTON GRAVE

NATION GOES ABOUT ITS WORK AGAIN WITH MANY MEMORIES OF ILLUSTRIOUS MAN

RECENTLY PLAYED SUCH A VITAL PART IN AFFAIRS OF REPUBLIC

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—The body of William Howard Taft rested in an Arlington grave today while the nation went about its work again with only memories of the man who so recently played such a vital part in its affairs.

The former president and chief justice was buried with full military honors yesterday after a brief, simple service at the grave attended by President and Mrs. Hoover, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, justices of the supreme court and other high officials of the government.

Thousands of persons from all walks of life lined the streets of Washington, braving a heavy downpour of rain, to honor the statesman. His body was borne on an artillery caisson, first to the capitol building to lie in state, then to All Souls Unitarian church for simple funeral rites, and, finally, to Arlington cemetery for interment among the hundreds of national heroes who rest there.

FRENZIED KILLING AND SUICIDE ENDS LIVES OF PAIR

Owatonna, Minn., March 12.—(U.P.)—Their lives ended in the tragedy of a frenzied killing and a suicide, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dyer were sent back today to their former home at Waterloo, Iowa.

County authorities said there was no need for an inquest over the bullet-marked bodies of the couple, who had been separated for three years. They believed Dyer shot his wife in the state school for children here and then committed suicide.

Authorities of two states took up the search for Dyer after his estranged wife was shot five times in the state school Monday night in the hearing of a score of little children. They found his badly wrecked automobile near Austin, Minn., and bloodhounds lead them to his body in a field several miles away.

Dyer was said to have been a former inmate of an insane asylum at Independence, Ia. He had been employed in Waterloo until recently.

DOHENY LOSES IN FIRST ROUND IN COURT BATTLE

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—E. L. Doheny, millionaire oil man, lost the first round in his fight against a bribery indictment today when Justice William Hitz rejected two special pleas in abatement filed by Doheny's counsel.

The pleas asserted that a jury already had acquitted Doheny in connection with the $100,000 transaction with former Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall, for which Doheny is now being tried.

Two School Girls are Charged with Extortion

Minneapolis, March 12.—(U.P.)—Two school girls, 12 and 14 years old, were charged with extortion today because the plot they said came from a moving picture failed to function in real life.

Olaf Cardner, 58, told police he received telephone threats from a woman who ordered him to put $50 in a glass jar at the rear of a church.

Detectives apprehended the two girls when they attempted to take away the money.

TROOPS MARCH ON PEIPING AND TIENTSIN

GOVERNOR OF SHANSI TO RESIST ADVANCE OF NANKING ARMIES

DETERMINED TO RESIST DOMINATION OF GEN. CHIANG KAI-SHEK

Peiping, China, March 12.—(U.P.)—War in north China appeared imminent today with Nanking's forces marching on Peiping and Tientsin along the railway from Hankow. Representatives here of General Yen Hsi-Shan, governor of Shansi, the "model province," decided to resist the advance of General Chiang Kai-Shek's Nanking armies, and the city was more tense than at any time since its capture by the nationalist forces in June, 1928.

General Yen's men saw in General Chiang Kai-Shek's advance a determination to annihilate their leader's army and their decision today followed. The garrisons here and at Tientsin are commanded by General Yen Hsi-Shan's generals, and they are determined not to submit to Chiang Kai-Shek's domination.

Reports today indicated Chiang Kai-Shek's troops advancing through Honan province without opposition.

GEO. HURLEY BLAMES ANOTHER FOR KILLING

St. Paul, March 12.—(U.P.)—George Hurley today testified in his trial on charges of murder that Bill Richards of Milwaukee, a companion on a drinking spree, killed William Bacheller, teamster and contractor, in a street brawl.

Hurley admitted he participated in the argument which started, he said, when Bacheller and another man attempted to force Richards off the sidewalk. The defendant said he fled from the scene as soon as Richards fired his revolver and that he did not know anyone was wounded.

Richards had introduced himself several days before, Hurley said, as a friend of Ray Moran of Milwaukee, a boyhood companion of the defendant. He denied knowledge of Richards' present whereabouts.

Under questioning by the prosecution Hurley admitted previous convictions on charges of liquor law violation and robbery. He was indicted on a first degree murder charge several years ago.

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—Secretary of Labor Davis will remain in the cabinet during his race for the republican senatorial nomination in Pennsylvania, he said today. The White House has let it be known Davis may remain in the cabinet as long as he chooses.

St. Peter, Minn., March 12.—(U.P.)—Search was extended to southern Minnesota today for Hilmer Hanson, 21, bookkeeper of the Nicollet County Bank of St. Peter, who disappeared Monday after he was entrusted with $5,000.

The first clew to the direction of Hanson's flight was received today from Mankato, where he was reported to have purchased a coat with a new $20 bill late Monday.

E. H. Lindberg, cashier of the Nicollet County Bank, said Hanson may have turned about and returned to the Twin Cities from Mankato, but he believed the bookkeeper fled through southern Minnesota into another state.

The missing funds included $1,000 in $20 bills, $2,000 in $5 bills and $2,000 in $10 bills. The numbers of the currency were unknown.

NEGRO BAPTIST MINISTER, PRECINCT
WORKER, MURDERED

Chicago, March 12.—(U.P.)—Another precinct registration has become political history, leaving police another murder to solve.

The Rev. William Slaughter, Negro Baptist preacher, a precinct worker in the 42nd ward, was shot fatally last night as he left a West Division street polling place. He was reported to have been a member of the Mayor William Hale Thompson organization.

Police arrested John Panpinala, whom they said was a Deneen precinct worker, in connection with the shooting. They charged Panpinala followed the Negro out of the polling place, uttering threats and that Slaughter fell after a volley in an alley a short time afterward.

BANK GROUP HEAD
DENIES UNITS GIVE UP INDEPENDENCEPAUL LEEMAN, IN FIRST BANK
STOCK CORPORATION REPORT,
ASSAILS CRITICISMMEMBERS JOIN ORGANIZATION
ON THEIR OWN VOLITION,
DECLARES THE MANAGER

Minneapolis, March 12.—Taking issue with "uninformed criticism" of group banking, Paul J. Leeman, vice president and general manager of the First Bank Stock Corporation, declared in his first annual report today that claims that various banks composing the group have sacrificed their independence are "absolutely untrue."

The criticism has extended to claims that the operations of unit banks, including their local loans, are directed from the head office of the corporation, he said.

"The banks are corporately just as independent as they were before they became affiliated with the corporation," Mr. Leeman declared. "They are operated and directed by local men for the benefit of the communities they serve and from which they derive their business."

"The corporation had a net operating profit in 1929 of $7,282,652, or more than $241 a share of stock, the report showed. Excess earnings over dividend requirements, however, will be held in the various banks as surplus."

"In expanding the First Bank Stock Corporation system, we are maintaining the position of affording opportunity to the independent bank upon its own volition to affiliate with the corporation, and new affiliations are being accomplished only upon this basis," the report said.

"The growth of the group is evidence that the independent banker recognized the benefits to be derived by association with this organization. Negotiations for the affiliation of a number of additional banks are now pending."

The corporation December 31 had 85 affiliated banking institutions in 60 cities of the northwest, with 42 banks in 21 Minnesota cities, 13 in 11 Montana cities, 15 in 15 cities of North Dakota, 12 in 10 South Dakota cities and three in three Michigan communities.

C. T. Jaffray is chairman of the board to the First Bank Stock Corporation and George H. Prince is president.

CONDITION OF QUEEN
VICTORIA IS SERIOUS

IS PURCHASER OF LIQUOR GUILTY OF BREAKING DRY LAW?

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—Attorney General Mitchell today asked the United States supreme court to decide whether a purchaser of intoxicating liquor is guilty of violating the national prohibition act.

The decision would provide a test of section 6 of the Volstead act, which makes enforcement authorities hold makes the buyer equally guilty with the seller.

Mitchell filed with the court an appeal from the recent decision of Judge Morton of the U. S. district court at Boston in the case of the United States against James E. Farrar, which held that a purchase is not a crime.

BODY OF TAFT
NOW RESTS IN AN
ARLINGTON GRAVENATION GOES ABOUT ITS WORK
AGAIN WITH MANY MEMORIES
OF ILLUSTRIOUS MANRECENTLY PLAYED SUCH A VI-TAL PART IN AFFAIRS OF REPUBLIC

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—The body of William Howard Taft rested in an Arlington grave today while the nation went about its work again with only memories of the man who so recently played such a vital part in its affairs.

The former president and chief justice was buried with full military honors yesterday after a brief, simple service at the grave attended by President and Mrs. Hoover, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, justices of the supreme court and other high officials of the government.

Thousands of persons from all walks of life lined the streets of Washington, braving a heavy downpour of rain, to honor the statesman. His body was borne on an artillery caisson, first to the capitol building to lie in state, then to All Souls Unitarian church for simple funeral rites, and, finally, to Arlington cemetery for interment among the hundreds of national heroes who rest there.

FRENZIED KILLING AND SUICIDE ENDS
LIVES OF PAIR

Owatonna, Minn., March 12.—(U.P.)—Their lives ended in the tragedy of a frenzied killing and a suicide, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dyer were sent back today to their former home at Waterloo, Iowa.

County authorities said there was no need for an inquest over the bullet-marked bodies of the couple, who had been separated for three years. They believed Dyer shot his wife in the state school for children here and then committed suicide.

Authorities of two states took up the search for Dyer after his estranged wife was shot five times in the state school Monday night in the hearing of a score of little children. They found his badly wrecked automobile near Austin, Minn., and bloodhounds lead them to his body in a field several miles away.

Dyer was said to have been a former inmate of an insane asylum at Independence, Ia. He had been employed in Waterloo until recently.

DOHENY LOSES IN FIRST ROUND IN COURT BATTLE

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—E. L. Doheny, millionaire oil man, lost the first round in his fight against a bribery indictment today when Justice William Hitz rejected two special pleas in abatement filed by Doheny's counsel.

The pleas asserted that a jury already had acquitted Doheny in connection with the $100,000 transaction with former Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall, for which Doheny is now being tried.

Two School Girls are Charged with Extortion

Minneapolis, March 12.—(U.P.)—Two school girls, 12 and 14 years old, were charged with extortion today because the plot they said came from a moving picture failed to function in real life.

Olaf Cardner, 58, told police he received telephone threats from a woman who ordered him to put $50 in a glass jar at the rear of a church.

Detectives apprehended the two girls when they attempted to take away the money.

TROOPS MARCH ON PEIPING
AND TIENTSINGOVERNOR OF SHANSI TO RE-SIST ADVANCE OF NAN-
KING ARMIESDETERMINED TO RESIST DOMI-
NATION OF GEN. CHIANG
KAI-SHEK

Peiping, China, March 12.—(U.P.)—War in north China appeared imminent today with Nanking's forces marching on Peiping and Tientsin along the railway from Hankow. Representatives here of General Yen Hsi-Shan, governor of Shansi, the "model province," decided to resist the advance of General Chiang Kai-Shek's Nanking armies, and the city was more tense than at any time since its capture by the nationalist forces in June, 1928.

General Yen's men saw in General Chiang Kai-Shek's advance a determination to annihilate their leader's army and their decision today followed. The garrisons here and at Tientsin are commanded by General Yen Hsi-Shan's generals, and they are determined not to submit to Chiang Kai-Shek's domination.

Reports today indicated Chiang Kai-Shek's troops advancing through Honan province without opposition.

GEO. HURLEY BLAMES
ANOTHER FOR KILLING

St. Paul, March 12.—(U.P.)—George Hurley today testified in his trial on charges of murder that Bill Richards of Milwaukee, a companion on a drinking spree, killed William Bacheller, teamster and contractor, in a street brawl.

Hurley admitted he participated in the argument which started, he said, when Bacheller and another man attempted to force Richards off the sidewalk. The defendant said he did not know the scene as soon as Richards fired his revolver and that he did not know anyone was wounded.

Richards had introduced himself several days before, Hurley said, as a friend of Ray Moran of Milwaukee, a boyhood companion of the defendant. He denied knowledge of Richards' present whereabouts.

Under questioning by the prosecution Hurley admitted previous convictions on charges of liquor law violation and robbery. He was indicted on a first degree murder charge several years ago.

Washington, March 12.—(U.P.)—Secretary of Labor Davis will remain in the cabinet during his race for the republican senatorial nomination in Pennsylvania, he said today. The White House has let it be known Davis may remain in the cabinet as long as he chooses.

Several hundred passengers narrowly escaped injury when a loose wheel struck a switch and upset the last coach of a Rock Island suburban train as it was leaving the downtown Chicago station for Beverly Hills and Blue Island, Ill. Over 80 were present at a meeting of the Eastern Star held Monday evening at the Masonic hall. Following the business meeting, a splendid entertainment was given which had been arranged by the members of Circle No. 2.

The first entertainer on the program was little Jeanne Claire Turcotte who pleased the audience with her dainty voice. She sang "Tip-toe Thru The Tulips" and "Singing in the Rain."

Two exceptionally well rendered trombone numbers were given by Mrs. Norman Ziebell. They were "Sweet Mystery of Life" and "The Soul of The Surf."

"Waiting at the End of the Road" and "When Song is Sweet" were sung by Mrs. M. A. Gordon, soprano. She was accompanied by Louis Johnson at the piano with Mrs. L. Johnson playing a violin obligato. Mrs. Gordon has a very lovely voice, and these numbers were greatly enjoyed by all.

The popular ladies quartet of Brainerd, composed of Mrs. Kathryn Silk, first soprano, Mrs. A. W. Moulster, second soprano, Mrs. Harry Paine, first alto and Mrs. Charles Mahlum, second alto, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Knudsen at the piano, gave two groups of songs, both of which drew enthusiastic applause. These ladies all have excellent voices and have appeared in a number of programs lately.

The second group was equally delightful, and in this the ladies were dressed in costumes to represent an Italian family including the grandmother, father, mother and two children. SONGS, MUSIC MAKE STAR MEET FEATURE

Splendid Entertainment Furnished; Ladies Quartet Attracts Well Deserved Attention

DRESS FOR PARTS

Entertainers Include Jeanne Claire Turcotte, Howard Gile, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Ziebell, Miss Morrison

Over 80 were present at a meeting of the Eastern Star held Monday evening at the Masonic hall. Following the business meeting, a splendid entertainment was given which had been arranged by the members of Circle No. 2.

The first entertainer on the program was little Jeanne Claire Turcotte who pleased the audience with her dainty voice. She sang "Tip-toe Thru The Tulips" and "Singing in the Rain."

Two exceptionally well rendered trombone numbers were given by Howard Gile, accompanied by Mrs. Norman Ziebell. They were "Sweet Mystery of Life" and "The Soul of The Surf."

"Waiting at the End of the Road" and "When Song is Sweet" were sung by Mrs. M. A. Gordon, soprano. She was accompanied by Louis Johnson at the piano with Mrs. L. Johnson playing a violin obligato. Mrs. Gordon has a very lovely voice, and these numbers were greatly enjoyed by all.

The popular ladies quartet of Brainerd, composed of Mrs. Kathryn Silk, first soprano, Mrs. A. W. Moulster, second soprano, Mrs. Harry Paine, first alto and Mrs. Charles Mahlum, second alto, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Knudsen at the piano, gave two groups of songs, both of which drew enthusiastic applause. These ladies all have excellent voices and have appeared in a number of programs lately.

The first group of songs included "Waiting at the End of the Road," "Singing in the Rain" and "Happy Days Are Here Again." The second group was equally delightful, and in this the ladies were dressed in costumes to represent an Italian family including the grandmother, father, mother and two children. They did not forget the monkey for he was there with the rest of the family contributing his share to the entertainment. This group of songs included "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet," "A Bird in a Gilded Cage," "Rainbow" and "In the Good Old Summer Time."

Miss Lorraine Morrison gave two piano selections, "Mother Macrae" and "Sparklets." Several numbers were enjoyed in community singing with Miss Morrison and Mrs. Ziebell at the piano. Mrs. M. A. Gordon led. Light refreshments followed the program and bridge at eight tables was played.

Circle No. 2 is now preparing for a card party to be given Friday evening, March 21. Miss Mae Belle Grewco is chairman in charge.

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

*Ultimate cost is as important as first cost in the purchase
of an automobile*

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

The difference in selling cost, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, amounts to at least $50 to $75 on each car. This is as important as economies in production in keeping down the price you pay for the new Ford.

THE low ultimate cost of the new Ford is the result of sound design, quality of material and unusual care in manufacturing. Friction and wear are reduced by the accuracy with which each part is made and assembled.

These factors combine to decrease the cost of operation and add months and years to the useful life of the car. The good performance and low yearly depreciation of the new Ford are indicative of the enduring quality built into it at the factory.

SERVICE charges are on the same fair, economical basis as the making and selling of the car and replacement parts are always available at low prices through all Ford dealers. In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost.

Think in terms of tomorrow, therefore, when you purchase an automobile. For tomorrow will reveal its true worth.

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

*Ultimate cost is as important
as first cost in the purchase
of an automobile*

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

The difference in selling cost, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, amounts to at least $50 to $75 on each car. This is as important as economies in production in keeping down the price you pay for the new Ford.

THE low ultimate cost of the new Ford is the result of sound design, quality of material and unusual care in manufacturing. Friction and wear are reduced by the accuracy with which each part is made and assembled.

These factors combine to decrease the cost of operation and add months and years to the useful life of the car. The good performance and low yearly depreciation of the new Ford are indicative of the enduring quality built into it at the factory.

SERVICE charges are on the same fair, economical basis as the making and selling of the car and replacement parts are always available at low prices through all Ford dealers. In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost.

Think in terms of tomorrow, therefore, when you purchase an automobile. For tomorrow will reveal its true worth.

Living on Farm and Working in Town

WE have often wondered how many people who still consider the automobile a luxury have taken into consideration the fact that it has produced an entirely new class of workers in the United States, says the Bird Island Union, such conditions having been noticed in Brainerd at the railway shops as well as high school and other construction work. This is the combination farmer-industrial worker, men and youths who are essentially farmers but who can work in nearby towns and cities and still look after the farm.

Back in the horse-and-buggy days this was impossible. The farm boy, or man, could not get his chores done and get to the canning factory, packing plant, sugar mill or other industry in time to start work with the regular force. And it would have taken too long to get home after the day's work was done. But it's different now, for by using an auto, and with good roads constantly getting better, they can live on a farm and still work in a town or city five, ten or even twenty-five miles away.

There is no doubt but this development is doing much to keep the present rural population on the farms. In time it ought to increase it. It also is bringing the factories from the big cities to the smaller towns, since the labor question—the thing that has kept so many factories away from the smaller towns—can now be solved satisfactorily. The process is not complete, but each year sees more and more rural residents using the auto to hold down industrial jobs in town. And more roads and better roads will add to the number, as well as to the general prosperity of the country.

A United Community

EVERYONE has his own mind and our laws give him the right to free thought and speech. This freedom, however, continues the Murray County Herald, should not be confused with license and lead us into channels of thinking and speaking that develop friction and a population divided against itself.

In union there is strength. In discord we face nothing but mediocrity and disaster.

We are a community unto ourselves, yet we should not live each unto himself. As a community we have an obligation to other communities, to our state and to the nation.

It is this community of interests that has made our country the marvel of the world—the most progressive and prosperous of any land upon which the sun shines.

It is the same community of interests that will build up our town and countryside if we practice it in our business and social life.

No nation can live entirely independent of other nations and continue to be prosperous and contented. Neither can any state, city, town, industrial or group of individuals.

We must harmonize our differences for the public good and then work together for the advancement of our common interests.

United, we push on to greater successes and achievements. Divided, we fall by the wayside and are soon forgotten.

Junior College, a Chance for Brainerd

FUNDS appropriated for the University of Minnesota would be divided for the support of Junior colleges to be established throughout the state, under a plan proposed by J. E. Meyers, member of the Minneapolis Board of Education.

The plan has been outlined to 250 members of the Minnesota State School Board association. It provides for the establishment of junior colleges in every section of the state.

A. J. Holman, Stillwater, acting for the university committee of the association, recommended to the resolution committee that the state and the University cooperate and assist in the establishing of the colleges. The junior college would train students in the same subjects that are required at the University during the first two years.

The proposal was interpreted by schoolmen as one of the most revolutionary steps in Minnesota in recent years. Meyers urged that every city of 10,000 or more in the state be provided with a junior college and larger cities be allotted two or more.

Purposes and benefits of the schools were outlined by J. A. Van Dyke, dean of the Junior college at Coleraine. He said the junior college afforded an institution of higher learning at home for high school graduates who are financially unable to attend the university.

ENGLISH women are objecting to long skirts. Mrs. Corbett Ashby, President of the National Women's Liberal Federation, says that you cannot tell if the smart creation walking down the street in front of you has cost $100 or $15 when it is a short skirt. But that is not true when long skirts are the fashion. English boys say you can walk to a dance with a short-skirted partner, but have to get a taxi for the girl with the long skirt.

ELEVEN thousand pheasants were distributed in 19 South Dakota counties this winter. Crow Wing county, where a number were released years ago, never seemed to be much of a center for the birds until last year when flocks were noticed in fields east of Brainerd.

MORE than 4,000 midwest creamery men, union and non-union members, will be guests of Minneapolis at the annual meeting of the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., Thursday and Friday.

MORE than 450 acres of land in territory about Watkins will be planted to beets next summer, following the contract of the Chaska Sugar Beet Refinery with the farmers.

APPEARANCE at four Minnesota cities March 26, 27 and 28 will mark the first annual tour of the Hamline university choir. The first concert will be given at Aitkin.

DEMOCRATS will soon attend a statewide democratic convention in either St. Paul or Minneapolis the latter part of March or early in April.

MERCHANDISE prizes totalling over $1,000 are to be given away during Albert Lea's first annual Spring Trade Week, March 24 to 29.

MORRISON county clergymen will gather at Little Falls March 14 to form the Morrison County Protestant Ministers association.

"MASTER of MONEY"

BY ROY VICKERS

CHAPTER XXIX.

"GOOD morning, Mrs. Sibley. We are just going to have breakfast. Will you join us?"

"What does he mean, Shirley?" said Mrs. Sibley, beside herself and staring with horror at the pineapple, as if she suspected him of the intention of forcing her to eat it. "I've had breakfast and couldn't possibly have it again."

"Aunt Marion, you'd better come in and rest a little," said Shirley.

"I oughtn't to come in. I oughtn't to be here at all. Those stairs are dreadful. If I could just sit down a minute—just one minute."

"Come along," said Shirley, and led her into the sitting-room.

It had been Shirley's intention to soothe her aunt and explain matters to her while Alan kept out of the way, but nothing of the kind happened. For one thing, it was soon obvious that it would be impossible to explain anything to Mrs. Sibley; for another they had not been alone a couple of minutes before Alan came into the room.

In those two minutes Mrs. Sibley, by her own peculiar methods of conversation, made her point of view abundantly clear.

"Oh Shirley darling, it was such a shock—I oughtn't to have come—I must apologize to Mr. Brenaway. But you know one never takes the slightest notice of servants' gossip and so I went direct to Roger, and I couldn't believe my ears."

"I didn't believe my ears, really—you know I've always had that little trouble with them through bathing at Deauville that summer your poor father died—and, as I told you just now, I called Roger a liar and then asked him for Mr. Brenaway's address. He admitted he didn't know it. This morning I got a letter from him by the first post. Why didn't you marry him properly when you had the chance instead of coming away to these awful flats?"

"Auntie, you don't understand. It's pure accident that I'm here this morning. We've been working all night and Alan thought—yes, dear, but it was a mistake to come to a flat like this—it looks so sordid when everyone knows that he is so well off, and of course everyone knows about you now, or will know in a day or two. You've no idea how this sort of thing spreads—they know long before the newspapers. I remember when poor Mrs. Dalby was so misjudged—"

She broke off as Alan Brenaway came in.

"I've been apologizing to Shirley for the last half-hour for coming here at all," she said. "And I apologize to you, too."

"There's no need for apologies, Mrs. Sibley."

"Thank you," said Mrs. Sibley. "You seem to realize that as Shirley's only near relative I—Mrs. Sibley lost herself and Alan came to the rescue by tactfully murmuring 'Quite so.'"

"It's not for me to tell you that you've both been very foolish," resumed Mrs. Sibley. "I oughtn't to be here talking to you at all, but you're both so dreadfully modern and sensible about it that one can't—well—I blame Shirley more than you. Mr. Brenaway would be a darling—because Shirley knows just what she is doing and I don't think that you, Mr. Brenaway, judging by—well, everything—"

Mrs. Sibley waved her hand indicating, in particular, the flat. "I don't think you quite do."

Shirley glanced at Alan.

"I have tried to explain to Aunt Marion—"

"Yes, dear, but there are some things it's no good being able to explain and this is one of them. It doesn't really matter what the explanation is—I'm not trying to say anything hard, but you do see what I mean don't you?"

Alan nodded to Shirley.

"Mrs. Sibley is quite right in my opinion. It's a very tragic thing as far as Shirley is concerned," he added. "It means, of course, that she had definitely broken with her set."

"It means losing three seasons," said Mrs. Sibley. "I've never heard of anyone going there. Egypt is much more usual, but of course—Good-bye, darling. Good-bye, Mr. Brenaway. There's no knowing. It may turn out for the best in the end. Really, nowadays there's no knowing what things are coming to—and it never does to be too sure."

Which profound reflector Mrs. Sibley flattered out of the flat.

Alan went into the kitchen and manipulated the kettle. Shirley followed him.

"Why didn't you marry him properly when you had the chance?"

"Why didn't you marry him properly when you had the chance?"

"Of course it will be difficult, very difficult at first," she cut in. "You must be abroad, nominally at any rate. It wouldn't do any harm to show yourselves on the Riviera the season after you are married. And don't forget it's very important to be married here—quietly, of course, but here. There's never the same confidence in marriage made abroad."

"Aunt Marion—" began Shirley and faltered. She wanted to say that the discussion must end. For Alan's sake she wanted to say that they had not discussed the question of marriage, wanted to explain that the last thing in the world she wished to do was to put any kind of pressure upon Alan to marry her. But it was Alan's glance that made her desist. Mrs. Sibley had not even noticed the interruption.

"I gather you are making a settlement on Shirley?" asked Mrs. Sibley. "Roger said something about it. She has her own money, of course, and won't need it, but settlements look well. They are only nominal, after all."

"Shirley and I are not likely to quarrel over the details," said Alan, smiling good-humoredly. "Oh, I am so glad you are both so sensible about it!" repeated Mrs. Sibley. "I can't tell you how much better I feel."

"I know you want to eat that—all those things you were bringing in, so I won't stay any longer. Shirley, my darling, write to me ever so often and I'll do the same—but you won't be staying here, will you?"

"No. We're going to Macedonia very soon."

"Macedonia?" echoed her aunt doubtfully. "I've never heard of anyone going there. Egypt is much more usual, but of course—Good-bye, darling. Good-bye, Mr. Brenaway. There's no knowing. It may turn out for the best in the end. Really, nowadays there's no knowing what things are coming to—and it never does to be too sure."

"There are four eggs," he said. "Two each. The best way is to take all the shell off, then drop it on the ham. Lord, what a night we've had!"

"My French won't be up to all those railway and mining terms," she said. "I shall take a special intensive course, and then I shall have to see about an outfit. And I've hundreds of questions to ask you yet, you know."

"MASTER of MONEY"

BY ROY VICKERS

CHAPTER XXIX.

"GOOD morning, Mrs. Sibley. We are just going to have breakfast. Will you join us?"

"What does he mean, Shirley?" said Mrs. Sibley, beside herself and staring with horror at the pineapple, as if she suspected him of the intention of forcing her to eat it. "I've had breakfast and couldn't possibly have it again."

"Aunt Marion, you'd better come in and rest a little," said Shirley.

"I oughtn't to come in. I oughtn't to be here at all. Those stairs are dreadful. If I could just sit down a minute—just one minute."

"Come along," said Shirley, and led her into the sitting-room.

It had been Shirley's intention to soothe her aunt and explain matters to her while Alan kept out of the way, but nothing of the kind happened. For one thing, it was soon obvious that it would be impossible to explain anything to Mrs. Sibley; for another they had not been alone a couple of minutes before Alan came into the room.

In those two minutes Mrs. Sibley, by her own peculiar methods of conversation, made her point of view abundantly clear.

"Oh, Shirley darling, it was such a shock. I oughtn't to have come—I must apologize to Mr. Brenaway. But you know one never takes the slightest notice of servants' gossip and so I went direct to Roger, and I couldn't believe my ears."

"I didn't believe my ears, really—you know I've always had that little trouble with them, that Summer your poor father died—and, as I told you just now, I called Roger a liar and then asked him for Mr. Brenaway's address. He admitted he didn't know it. This morning I got a letter from him by the first post. Why didn't you marry him properly when you had the chance instead of coming away to these awful flats?"

"Auntie, you don't understand. It's pure accident that I'm here this morning. We've been working all night and Alan thought—"

"Yes, dear, but it was a mistake to come to a flat like this—it looks so sordid when everyone knows that he is so well off, and of course everyone knows about you now, or will know in a day or two. You've no idea how this sort of thing spreads—they know long before the newspapers. I remember when poor Mrs. Dalby was so misjudged—"

She broke off as Alan Brenaway came in.

"I've been apologizing to Shirley for the last half-hour for coming here at all," she said. "And I apologize to you, too."

"There's no need for apologies, Mrs. Sibley."

"Thank you," said Mrs. Sibley. "You seem to realize that as Shirley's only near relative I—"

Mrs. Sibley lost herself and Alan came to the rescue by tactfully murmuring "Quite so."

"It's not for me to tell you that you've both been very foolish," resumed Mrs. Sibley. "I oughtn't to be here talking to you at all, but you're both so dreadfully modern and sensible about it that one can't—well—I blame Shirley more than you. Mr. Brenaway—yes, I do, darling—because Shirley knows just what she is doing and I don't think that you, Mr. Brenaway, judging by well—everything—"

Mrs. Sibley waved her hand indicating, in particular, the flat. "I don't think you quite do."

Shirley glanced at Alan.

"I have tried to explain to Aunt Marion—"

"Yes, dear, but there are some things it's no good being able to explain and this is one of them. It doesn't really matter what the explanation is—I'm not trying to say anything hard, but you do see what I mean don't you?"

Alan nodded to Shirley.

"Mrs. Sibley is quite right in my opinion. It's a very tragic thing as far as Shirley is concerned," he added. "It means, of course, that she had definitely broken with her set."

"It means losing three seasons," said Mrs. Sibley impressively. "Since you are being so sensible about it, Mr. Brenaway, perhaps you will let me go on. Mind you, I can countenance nothing—nothing at all. I won't be made a—conspirator. You will have to miss three seasons."

"But that, if I'm still alive, I shall ask you to do for me. I think you'll find that I'm not prepared to forget. But understand I don't countenance anything at the present—I oughtn't to have come here at all."

"You are very generous, Mrs. Sibley. But I hardly think—"

"Why didn't you marry him properly when you had the chance?"

"Of course it will be difficult, very difficult at first," she cut in. "You must be abroad, nominally at any rate. It wouldn't do any harm to show yourselves on the Riviera the season after you are married. And don't forget it's very important to be married here—quietly, of course, but here. There's never the same confidence in marriage made abroad."

"Aunt Marion—" began Shirley and faltered. She wanted to say that the discussion must end. For Alan's sake she wanted to say that they had not discussed the question of marriage, wanted to explain that the last thing in the world she wished to do was to put any kind of pressure upon Alan to marry her. But it was Alan's glance that made her desist. Mrs. Sibley had not even noticed the interruption.

"I gathered you are making a settlement on Shirley?" asked Mrs. Sibley. "Roger said something about it. She has her own money, of course, and won't need it, but settlements look well. They are only nominal, after all."

"Shirley and I are not likely to quarrel over the details," said Alan, smiling good-humoredly.

"Oh, I am so glad you are both so sensible about it!" repeated Mrs. Sibley. "I can't tell you how much better I feel." She got up. "I know you want to eat that—all those things you were bringing in, so I won't stay any longer. Shirley, my darling, write to me ever so often and I'll do the same—but you won't be staying here, will you?"

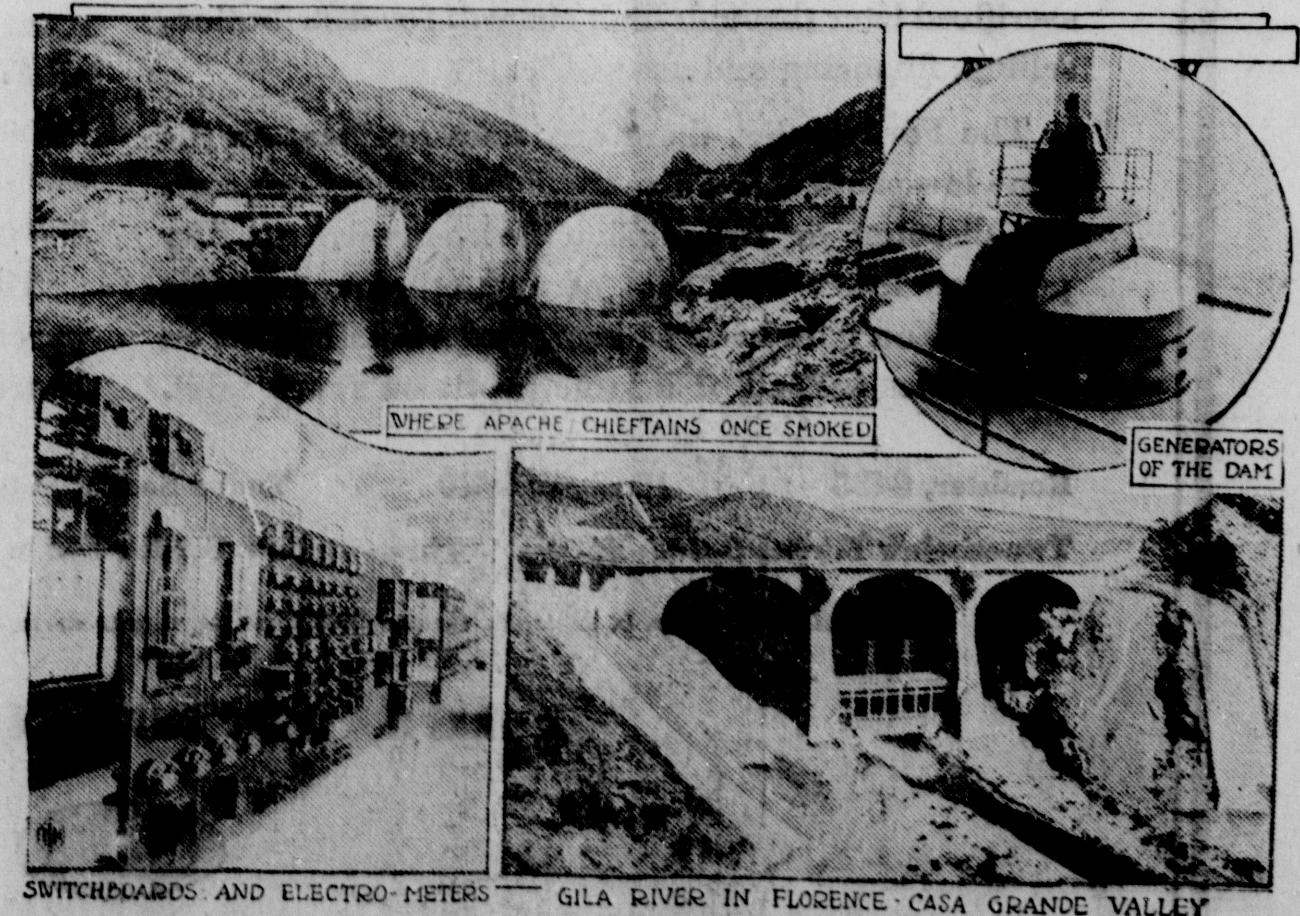

"No. We're going to Macedonia very soon."

"Macedonia!" echoed her aunt doubtfully. "I've never heard of anyone going there. Egypt is much more usual, but of course—Good-bye, darling. Good-bye, Mr. Brenaway. There's no knowing. It may turn out for the best in the end. Really, nowadays there's no knowing what things are coming to—and it never does to be too sure."

Which profound reflector Mrs. Sibley fluttered out of the flat.

Alan went into the kitchen and manipulated the kettle. Shirley followed him.

U. P. NAMES ITS THREE ALL-CONFERENCE BASKETBALL TEAMS

"STRETCH" MURPHY OF PURDUE

UNITED PRESS CONSULTS OFFICIALS, COACHES, EXPERTS TO MAKE UP TEAMS

By BERT DEMEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, March 12.—Outstanding centers and a great Purdue basketball team so dominated the western conference basketball play that the selection of an all Big Ten team is more a problem of fitting the men into positions than of choosing the men.

Before selecting its team the United Press consulted coaches, officials, basketball experts and its own men to find that in almost every discussion three names stood out as "first team choices."

Those names are Branch McCracken, Indiana; Stretch Murphy, Purdue, and Foster, Wisconsin, all centers. Between them they scored 375 points, an average of 125 each and since each is a great floor man they comprise one of the most powerful offenses the conference ever has seen.

Murphy is accorded the center position on his extreme height and ability to hold the ball over opponents' heads while pivoting on the foul line and passing to a teammate. He has had few peers as a center.

Had Purdue played a full 12-game schedule, Stretch no doubt would have established a new scoring record. In ten games he accounted for 137 points, ten less than McCracken scored in 12 games.

Foster and McCracken have about everything desirable in a basketball player. So does Chapman of Michigan. Chappie, too, is a center but his play this year was not up to that of last. On the other hand Foster and McCracken improved forcing the Michigan pivot man to accept a place at center on the second team.

The guards present a real problem. There are a half dozen entitled to consideration—Boots and Wooden of Purdue; Chmielewski and Paul of Wisconsin; Mills, Illinois, and Riel, Northwestern. Chmielewski and Paul combined to win the honor of allowing fewest opponents' points of any guards in the Big Ten. They allowed but 209 opponents' markers, four less than were scored against the championship Purdue outfit.

Wooden ranked third in the conference scoring with 97 points and he has been termed one of the greatest players ever to enter the conference.

Coach Manwell of Wisconsin, one of America's leading basketball authorities, termed Wooden and Chmielewski the "two best guards the conference has seen in years." He added "and one is just as valuable as the other." However, only lack of a third guard position keeps Boots from being on the first team.

A dearth of scoring forwards was noted.

The United Press all Big Ten basketball teams:

First Team
McCracken, Indiana—forward.
Foster, Wisconsin—forward.
Murphy, Purdue—center.
Wooden, Purdue—guard.
Chmielewski, Wisconsin—guard.

Second Team
Harmeson, Purdue—forward.
Truskowski, Michigan—forward.
Chapman, Michigan—center.
Boots, Purdue—guard.
Riel, Northwestern—guard.

Third Team
Loose, Minnesota—forward.
Strickland, Indiana—forward.
Mills, Illinois—center.
Harper, Illinois—guard.
Fish, Chicago—guard.

Honorable mention—Walter, Northwestern; Orwig, Michigan; Ervin, Fessler, Ohio State; Farber, Wisconsin.

Here's how the United Press first all-conference team members fared during the past season:

Notre Dame began spring football practice yesterday with 250 candidates on the field under the instruction of "Hunk" Anderson and Jack Cheever. "Hunk" is taking Tom Lieb's place. Rockne hasn't returned from a winter's sojourn in Florida yet, but he is expected next week. When he comes he will see Notre Dame's new stadium taking definite form and he'll see plenty of good Irish grid material getting ready for the big games next fall.

The 11th district may hear considerably more of Drellack, Little Falls high school center, during the next two years. The big fellow is now a sophomore and when Coach Burnett has trained him for another year or two he will probably be a much feared man by other teams over the district. Konechal and Ransall, the two Little Falls aces this year, will both be lost to Burnett through graduation.

The Minneapolis Ascensions and the Indianapolis South Stars meet this evening at Kansas City in the National A. A. U. basketball tournament. The Turners defeated the Kansas City Standbears last night while the Ascensions were putting the skins under another Kansas City team. Tonight's battle should prove to be rather interesting.

More than 14,000 people were foolish enough to pay out their good money in Minneapolis last evening to see Primo Carnera toy with Sully Montgomery for a couple of rounds. We wonder who the next unknown to meet Primo will be.

"Stretch" Murphy performed before 6,000 spectators last night in his initial professional basketball game. Murphy scored fifteen points and his Galesburg Fan's team defeated the Harper's Independents of Peoria, Ill., by a score of 39-16.

Branch McCracken has also turned pro. He signed yesterday to play with the Ford Wayne Club of the American Professional Basketball League.

KAYE DON TO GIVE HIS 'SILVER BULLET' A TRYOUT TODAY

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—Kaye Don, British race driver, today planned to give his "Silver Bullet" its first tryout on the Daytona Beach record course. Don traversed the entire course yesterday in his roadster. He maintained a pace of 65 miles per hour and expressed satisfaction over the condition and smoothness of the beach.

BRAINERD

DEFEATS SULLY MONTGOMERY IN 2 ROUNDS

VICTIM WAS GOOD FOOTBALL PLAYER, BUT AMOUNTED TO LITTLE IN THE RING

SOME 10,000 PERSONS PAID $22,000 TO SEE THE ONE-SIDED FRACAS

By RAY BRENNAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Minneapolis, Minn., March 12.—Oh, Hum! It's happened again.

The astutely handled Primo Carnera has scored another knockout—his ninth consecutive one in America—in two rounds. The victim, Sully Montgomery. Remember him? The fellow who was a good football player but never amounted to much in the ring and who has been regarded as through for a year or two now.

Primo, accompanied by his retinue of handlers, settled his gondola like feet (which nature endowed him with that he might easily get about his native Venice) in the middle of the ring last night and threw a right cross which allowed Montgomery the opportunity of going peacefully to sleep. Some 10,000 persons paid $22,000 to see him do it.

Previously the giant Italian, weighing 275 pounds, some 50 pounds more than his opponent, had flattened Sully with a left hook but the former football star, aided by the ropes, struggled to his feet. The next thing he knew he came to after taking the aforementioned right cross.

For his four minutes and fifteen seconds of fighting, Carnera collected $7,000. As usual he put on a good show. Sporting like a steam engine, he tore at Montgomery in the first round and ran into a body punch. Then he indicated something about a foul but the fight continued.

Montgomery used a weaving, dancing style and kept away from Primo's ham-like hands for the remainder of the round as Primo seemed to grow more angry. At the start of the second the Italian by sheer force of weight pinned Sully against the ropes—then the left hook. The rest has been told.

Carnera will fight again (as soon as a "suitable" opponent can be found).

Sully will go back to fighting opponents which he stands a chance with but which won't net him nearly so much publicity or money.

The record books will list Carnera as one who knocked out Sully Montgomery.

gomery. And somebody perhaps will arise with the remark:

"Well, who didn't?"

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—Jock Malone, St. Paul, shaded "Tiger" Johnny Cline, Kansas City, 158 pounds, 10 rounds.

Adolfo Alverdez, Cuba, drew with Johnny Wright, Los Angeles, 156 pounds, six rounds.

Harold Sines, Kansas City, decisively defeated Billy Proctor, Topeka, 130 pounds, six rounds.

George Dixon, Kansas City, outpointed "Chick" Rogers, Kansas City, 160 pounds, six rounds.

Dave Allen, 118 pounds, defeated Steve Aleshi, 114 pounds, four rounds.

Los Angeles, March 12.—Eddie Mack, Denver lightweight, won a 10-round decision over Goldie Hess, of Los Angeles, in their feature bout at the Olympic last night.

ALDERMAN-MAGHAN ANNEX TWO GAMES

WIN FROM BYES WHO ROLL 4 MEN; BOYD SETS NEW SINGLE GAME MARK

Alderman-Maghan annexed 2 games from Bye Clothing Co. who rolled four men last evening. Byes crashed the pins for the big total of 958. Les Boyd was in the limelight as he smashed high single game record, finding the pocket for seven consecutive strikes for a 258 count. His 623 was high total for the evening. DeRoche's 218 won the second game in which the hardware team had 22 pins to the good. The last game was also close.

E. M. B. A. enjoyed a three-py win over Study Club. There was only one game difference before the match last evening. This puts E. M. B. A. in a secure position at the top of the league. Rardin and "Cully" Nelson were the big guns which spelled defeat for Study Club. Rardin with 214, 203 and 176 totalled 593 and Nelson laid the maples for a 589 total with 205, 185 and 199. This puts Rardin 8 pins ahead total in averages. He has 178 plus 24 pins and Dr. Hawkinson has 178 plus 16 pins for high average.

PLAY 90 MINUTES BASKETBALL WITH ONLY TWO RESTS

RESULT OF GAME BETWEEN TIRED BUSINESS MEN IS IN DOUBT

LAST SCORE THAT CAN BE RECALLED WAS 65-65 TIE; TIRE OUT 3 SCORE-KEEPERS

A number of business and professional men of Brainerd were nursing sore hands, lame legs, muscle cramps and a general stiff condition today as a result of a pick-up basketball game at the Washington high school gym last evening, the feature of the "Regain That Youthful Figure" class.

Ninety minutes of basketball was played with only two rest periods of one minute each.

The result of the game is still in doubt. There was plenty of scoring, tackling, blocking, charging, gains as much as ten yards was no uncommon occurrence.

Three scorekeepers became tired out, chalking up the score. Martin Swanson was called into service in this capacity, finishing the game. The final result was in its sixties. The last that can be remembered was a score of 65 to 65 and since the school team names, Brainerd high and Crosby-Ironton high, had not been taken down from the score board, the teams played under those standards.

On one side was Fred Janneck, Earl Fitzsimmons, "Speck" Hansen, Dr. C. E. Anderson and Clarence Dahlen, while opposite were Bob Nichols, I. L. Peterson, Larson, "Bic" Erickson, "Hec" Hoening, J. H. Kinney acted as judge of play.

U. P. NAMES ITS THREE ALL-CONFERENCE BASKETBALL TEAMS

McCRACKEN SCORED 147 IN 12 GAMES

"STRETCH" MURPHY OF PURDUE IN 10 GAMES SCORED 137 POINTS

UNITED PRESS CONSULTS OFFICIALS, COACHES, EXPERTS TO MAKE UP TEAMS

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, March 12.—Outstanding centers and a great Purdue basketball team so dominated the western conference basketball play that the selection of an all Big Ten team is more a problem of fitting the men into positions than of choosing the men.

Before selecting its team the United Press consulted coaches, officials, basketball experts and its own men to find that in almost every discussion three names stood out as "first team centers."

Those names are Branch McCracken, Indiana; Stretch Murphy, Purdue, and Foster, Wisconsin, all centers. Between them they scored 375 points, an average of 125 each and since each is a great floor man they comprise one of the most powerful offenses the conference ever has seen.

Murphy is accorded the center position on his extreme height and ability to hold the ball over opponents' heads while pivoting on the foul line and passing to a teammate. He has had few peers as a center.

Had Purdue played a full 12-game schedule, Stretch no doubt would have established a new scoring record. In ten games he accounted for 137 points, ten less than McCracken scored in 12 games.

Foster and McCracken have about everything desirable in a basketball player. So does Chapman of Michigan. Chappie, too, is a center but his play this year was not up to that of last. On the other hand Foster and McCracken improved, forcing the Michigan pivot man to accept a place at center on the second team.

The guards present a real problem. There are a half dozen entitled to consideration—Boots and Wooden of Purdue; Chmielewski and Paul of Wisconsin; Mills, Illinois, and Riel, Northwestern. Chmielewski and Paul combined to win the honor of allowing fewest opponents' points of any guards in the Big Ten. They allowed but 209 opponents' markers, four less than were scored against the championship Purdue outfit.

Wooden ranked third in the conference scoring with 97 points and he has been termed one of the greatest players ever to enter the conference.

Coach Manwell of Wisconsin, one of America's leading basketball authorities, termed Wooden and Chmielewski the "two best guards the conference has seen in years." He added "and one is just as valuable as the other." However, only lack of a third guard position keeps Boots from being on the first team.

A dearth of scoring forwards was noted.

The United Press all Big Ten basketball teams:

First Team
McCracken, Indiana—forward.
Foster, Wisconsin—forward.
Murphy, Purdue—center.
Wooden, Purdue—guard.
Chmielewski, Wisconsin—guard.

Second Team
Harmeson, Purdue—forward.
Truskowski, Michigan—forward.
Chapman, Michigan—center.
Boots, Purdue—guard.
Riel, Northwestern—guard.

Third Team
Loose, Minnesota—forward.
Strickland, Indiana—forward.
Mills, Illinois—center.
Harper, Illinois—guard.
Fish, Chicago—guard.

Honorable mention—Walter, Northwestern; Orwig, Michigan; Ervin, Fessler, Ohio State; Farber, Wisconsin.

Here's how the United Press first all-conference team members fared during the past season:

BASEBALL BRIEFS

Clearwater, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—"Babe Herman must accept the club's offer of $15,000 if he wants to play ball this year," President Frank York of the Brooklyn Robins said today. "If he has not signed when the season opens he will be suspended."

Biloxi, Miss., March 12.—(U.P.)—The Washington Senators will play their first practice game of the year today, with the regulars and rookies meeting in a 6-inning clash. Recruit infielder Jimmy McLeod appears to have won a berth as utility infielder.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—Captain Fresno Thompson is in correspondence with Manager Bert Shotton regarding his 1930 salary and is expected to join the team shortly.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—Henry Johnson's pitching featured the Yankees' 8 to 5 victory over the Boston Braves yesterday. Babe Ruth turned in one of the longest hits ever made in the local park but collected only three bases.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—Business Manager Bill Friel of the St. Louis Browns conferred with Outfielder Heinie Manush yesterday regarding the slugger's 1930 contract but failed to reach an agreement.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—Manager McKechnie is endeavoring to land an experienced catcher to help out Hank Gowdy and also has sent out a call for more pitchers.

San Antonio, Tex., March 12.—(U.P.)—Manager Donie Bush today predicted that Hunnefeld and Cissell, the White Sox pivot pair, would develop into one of the league's best double play combinations.

Bradenton, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—Frankie Frisch has accepted terms for his 1930 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals. Pitcher Pete Fowler now is the only holdout.

Sparky Adams, former Pittsburgh player, and Bill Myers, recruit from Danville, have been playing second and will divide the assignment in today's game.

Notre Dame began spring football practice yesterday with 250 candidates on the field under the instruction of "Hunk" Anderson and Jack Chevigny. "Hunk" is taking Tom Lieb's place. Rockne hasn't returned from a winter's sojourn in Florida yet, but he is expected next week. When he comes he will see Notre Dame's new stadium taking definite form and he'll see plenty of good Irish grid material getting ready for the big games next fall.

The 11th district may hear considerably more of Drellback, Little Falls high school center, during the next two years. The big fellow is only a sophomore and when Coach Burnett has trained him for another year or two he will probably be a much feared man by other teams over the district. Ronchal and Randall, the two Little Falls actors this year, will both be lost to Burnett through graduation.

The Minneapolis Ascensions and the Indianapolis South Side Turners meet this evening at Kansas City in the National A. A. U. basketball tournament. The Turners defeated the Kansas City Standbergs last night while the Ascensions were putting the skids under another Kansas City team. Tonight's battle should prove to be rather interesting.

More than 14,000 people were foolish enough to pay out their good money in Minneapolis last evening to see Primo Carnera toy with Sully Montgomery for a couple of rounds. We wonder who the next unknown to meet Primo will be.

"Stretch" Murphy performed before 6,000 spectators last night in his initial professional basketball game. Murphy scored fifteen points and his Galesburg Fan's team defeated the Harper's Independents of Peoria, Ill., by a score of 39-16.

Branch McCracken has also turned pro. He signed yesterday to play with the Fort Wayne Club of the American Professional Basketball League.

KAYE DON TO GIVE HIS 'SILVER BULLET' A TRYOUT TODAY

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 12.—(U.P.)—Kaye Don, British race driver, today planned to give his "Silver Bullet" its first tryout on the Daytona Beach record course. Don traversed the entire course yesterday in his roadster. He maintained a pace of 65 miles per hour and expressed satisfaction over the condition and smoothness of the beach.

DEFEATS SULLY MONTGOMERY IN 2 ROUNDS

VICTIM WAS GOOD FOOTBALL PLAYER, BUT AMOUNTED TO LITTLE IN THE RING

SOME 10,000 PERSONS PAID $22,000 TO SEE THE ONE-SIDED FRACAS

By RAY BRENNAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Minneapolis, Minn., March 12.—Oh, Hum! It's happened again.

The astutely handled Primo Carnera has scored another knockout—his ninth consecutive one in America—in two rounds. The victim, Sully Montgomery. Remember him? The fellow who was a good football player but never amounted to much in the ring and who has been regarded as thorough for a year or two now.

Primo, accompanied by his retinue of handlers, settled his gondola like feet (which nature endowed him with that he might easily get about his native Venice) in the middle of the ring last night and threw a right cross which allowed Montgomery the opportunity of going peacefully to sleep. Some 10,000 persons paid $22,000 to see him do it.

Previously the giant Italian, weighing 275 pounds, some 50 pounds more than his opponent, had flattened Sully with a left hook but the former football star, aided by the ropes, struggled to his feet. The next thing he knew he came to after taking the afore mentioned right cross.

For his four minutes and fifteen seconds of fighting, Carnera collected $7,000. As usual he put on a good show. Sporting like a steam engine, he tore at Montgomery in the first round and ran into a body punch. Then he indicated something about a foul but the fight continued.

Montgomery used a weaving, dancing style and kept away from Primo's ham-like hands for the remainder of the round as Primo seemed to grow more angry. At the start of the second the Italian by sheer force of weight pinned Sully against the ropes—then the left hook. The rest has been told.

Carnera will fight again (as soon as a "suitable" opponent can be found).

Sully will go back to fighting opponents which he stands a chance with but which won't net him nearly so much publicity or money.

The record books will list Carnera as one who knocked out Sully Montgomery.

gomery. And somebody perhaps will arise with the remark:
"Well, who didn't?"

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—Jock Malone, St. Paul, shaded "Tiger" Johnny Cline, Kansas City, 158 pounds, 10 rounds.

Adolfo Alvarez, Cuba, drew with Johnny Wright, Los Angeles, 156 pounds, six rounds.

Harold Sines, Kansas City, decisively defeated Billy Proctor, Topeka, 130 pounds, six rounds.

George Dixon, Kansas City, outpointed "Chick" Rogers, Kansas City, 160 pounds, six rounds.

Dave Allen, 118 pounds, defeated Steve Aleshi, 114 pounds, four rounds.

Los Angeles, March 12.—Eddie Mack, Denver lightweight, won a 10-round decision over Goldie Hess, of Los Angeles, in their feature bout at the Olympic last night.

WIN FROM BYES WHO ROLL 4 MEN; BOYD SETS NEW SINGLE GAME MARK

Alderman-Maghan annexed 2 games from Bye Clothing Co. who rolled four men last evening. Byes crashed the pins for the big total of 958. Les Boyd was in the limelight as he smashed high single game record, finding the pocket for seven consecutive strikes for a 258 count. His 623 was high total for the evening. DeRoche's 218 won the second game in which the hardware team had 22 pins to the good. The last game was also close.

E. M. B. A. enjoyed a three-try win over Study Club. There was only one game difference before the match last evening. This puts E. M. B. A. in a secure position at the top of the league. Rardin and "Cully" Nelson were the big guns which spelled defeat for Study Club. Rardin with 214, 203 and 176 totalled 593 and Nelson laid the maples for a 589 total with 205, 185 and 199. This puts Rardin 8 pins ahead total in averages. He has 178 plus 24 pins and Dr. Hawkinson has 178 plus 16 pins for high average.

PLAY 90 MINUTES BASKETBALL WITH ONLY TWO RESTS

RESULT OF GAME BETWEEN TIRED BUSINESS MEN IS IN DOUBT

LAST SCORE THAT CAN BE RECALLED WAS 65-65 TIE; TIRE OUT 3 SCORE-KEEPERS

A number of business and professional men of Brainerd were nursing sore hands, lame legs, muscle cramps and a general stiff condition today as a result of a pick-up basketball game at the Washington high school gym last evening, the feature of the "Regain That Youthful Figure" class.

Ninety minutes of basketball was played with only two rest periods of one minute each.

The result of the game is still in doubt. There was plenty of scoring, tackling, blocking, charging. Gains as much as ten yards was no uncommon occurrence.

Three scorekeepers became tired out, chalking up the score. Martin Swanson was called into service in this capacity, finishing the game.

The final result was in its sixties. The last that can be remembered was a score of 65 to 65 and since the school team names, Brainerd high and Crosby-Ironton high, had not been taken down from the score board, the teams played under those standards.

On one side was Fred Janneck, Earl Erickson, "Speck" Hansen, Dr. C. E. Anderson and Clarence Dahlen, while opposite were Bob Nichols, L. L. Peterson, Larson, "Bic" Erickson, "Hee" Hoeng, J. H. Kinney acted as judge of play.

HOP THE HURDLE of changing seasons

Leave your car outside all night if you have to—but be sure you've fueled with Phillips 66. Take the wheel in the morning—touch the starter—and "get gone"! Phillips 66 overcomes the cold weather starting bugaboo—because its volatility is controlled to fit the season and the climate. It's an action gasoline—with a power complex—and a sweet mileage record. Yet it costs no more. For best results try a full tank of Phillips... or Phillips 66 Ethyl.

SURFACE THIS SUMMER

Renewal Projects Include No. 2 Five Miles South From Ironton, Motley to Wadena

C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, today announced 800 miles of Minnesota trunk roads will be surfaced with bituminous oil this summer, according to a United Press dispatch from St. Paul.

The oil treatment will be applied to 300 miles of new roads, and about 269 miles of highway will be resurfaced. Cost of the treatment, Babcock said, varies between $800 and $2,200 a mile for new roads and from $500 to $1,500 for re-surfacing.

The highway department said approximately 7,000,000 gallons of oil, tar and asphalt will be used in the construction. Under preliminary estimates, the first application of oil will require about 10,000 gallons a mile.

Included in the list of projects for new treatment are: Highway No. 2, 20 miles from Brainerd to Motley; No. 7, 11 miles from Rochester to Eyota; No. 28, 16 miles from Little Falls to Swanville; No. 29, five miles north of Alexandria; No. 59, 11 miles northeast from Rochester.

Renewal Projects Include No. 2 Five Miles South From Ironton, Motley to Wadena

C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, today announced 800 miles of Minnesota trunk roads will be surfaced with bituminous oil this summer, according to a United Press dispatch from St. Paul.

The oil treatment will be applied to 300 miles of new roads, and about 260 miles of highway will be resurfaced. Cost of the treatment, Babcock said, varies between $800 and $2,200 a mile for new roads and from $500 to $1,500 for re-surfacing.

The highway department said approximately 7,000,000 gallons of oil, tar and asphalt will be used in the construction. Under preliminary estimates, the first application of oil will require about 10,000 gallons a mile.

Included in the list of projects for new treatment are: Highway No. 2, 20 miles from Brainerd to Motley; No. 7, 11 miles from Rochester to Eyota; No. 28, 16 miles from Little Falls to Swanville; No. 29, five miles north of Alexandria; No. 59, 11 miles northeast from Rochester.

The renewal projects include No. 2, five miles south from Ironton; No. 2, 10 miles from Motley to Wadena; No. 2, one mile at Staples; No. 3, 10 miles from Wabasha to Lake City; No. 4, 18 miles from Sauk Center to Long Prairie; No. 6, 17 miles from the south county line to Moorhead; No. 7, 11 miles from Rochester to Eyota, and No. 37, 12 miles from Little Falls to Motley.

Women Barred From Bridge
A sign posted on the Forth bridge in Scotland forbids any woman walking across the structure and it is said the restriction is rigidly enforced. The reason is that the walk is considered too precarious for a woman to attempt.

Earliest Friction Match
The first true friction match was not invented until 1827 by a man named John Walker of Stockton-on-Tees, Durham, England. Ignition of sulphur and phosphorus by friction was discovered by Godfrey Haukwitz in 1680, and it was 150 years before this discovery was applied to matches.

U.S.C.S. MOST
FAMED SPRINTER—NOW ANOTHER
SPRINTER FROM SOUTHERN CAL.
BIDS FAIR TO DUPLICATE CHARLEY'S
SUCCESS—Frank WYKOFF.

WHOSE FACE LOOMS LARGE ON THE SPRINT HORIZON.

ON the authority of Charley Paddock, his immediate predecessor as super-sprinter at the University of Southern California, Frank Wykoff, glittering "Glendale Gilder," should reach his speed maximum this season. In early February trials, that Pacific Coast schoolboy wonder did the hundred in 9.45 and the two-hundred in 22.

Borah proclaims that "Wykoff is faster than ever from the starting holes; barring accident or illness, he is likely to win a national sprinting championship this year." Incidentally—but most important of all to his coach, the veteran Dean Cromwell—Wykoff is the leading ace of the U. S. C. track team. He will be his university's hope in the dual meet with Stanford, April 12. On that occasion, he is scheduled to match strides with Hee Dyer, Card favorite.

"Dick" Templeton, Stanford coach, has been grooming Dyer for weeks with Wykoff in mind. "Dick" would like nothing better than to top off a Card victory over the Trojans with Dyer winning his sprints against Friend Cromwell's "sure thing."

Wykoff rides the winds while pounding the cinder path spurred on by the most inspiring of college traditions, for among his majestic predecessors at U. S. C. were Charley Paddock, for years "The Fastest Human"; and Borah still a medical student at that institution.

By G. B. WINSTEAD
United Press Radio Editor

New York, March 12.—Those who tune in on the Columbia network at 9:30 p. m. today will hear a program from Chicago, New York and Los Angeles presided over by Will Rogers as master of ceremonies. Seeks Auto Speed Honors

A few minutes after his arrival at Daytona Beach, Kaye Don, British automobile race driver, went out to the hard packed sandy speedway and tested the course over which he is soon to race his Silver Bullet. Don is shown testing the sand on which he hopes to attain a mark of four miles a minute. The speed record is held by another British daredevil, Major H. O. D. Segrave, who last year sped 231 miles an hour.

Sousa and his band will appear as star performers.

Rogers will take the spotlight immediately after the opening announcement from Chicago; Sousa will conduct from New York and Mme. Homer, contralto of the Metropolitan Opera, will sing from Chicago.

A galaxy of operatic, concert, vaudeville and radio artists headed by John McCormack, renowned Irish tenor whose first talking picture opened in

New York last night, will feature the RCA-Victor hour over the NBC network at 9:30 p. m. tomorrow.

This Doctor's Prescription Gives Quicker, Better Relief

Don't suffer the pain and discomfort of sore throat. Use a doctor's prescription called Thoxine guaranteed to relieve with the very first swallow. Gargles and salves are too slow and if they do relieve, it is usually only temporary.

Thoxine has a double action—it relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause. It contains no harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant for the whole family. There is nothing better to stop coughing due to irritated throats. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. PLUCKED FROM THE AIR

United Press Radio Editor

New York, March 12.—Those who tune in on the Columbia network at 9:30 p. m. today will hear a program from Chicago, New York and Los Angeles presided over by Will Rogers as master of ceremonies. Six times during the hour's broadcast the scene of the broadcast will switch across the continent and in addition to Rogers, Mme. Louise Homer and John Philip

Seeks Auto Speed Honors

A few minutes after his arrival at Daytona Beach, Kaye Don, British automobile race driver, went out to the hard packed sandy speedway and tested the course over which he is soon to race his Silver Bullet. Don is shown testing the sand on which he hopes to attain a mark of four miles a minute. The speed record is held by another British daredevil, Major H. O. D. Segrave, who last year sped 231 miles an hour.

Souza and his band will appear as star performers.

Rogers will take the spotlight immediately after the opening announcement from Chicago; Souza will conduct from New York and Mme. Homer, contralto of the Metropolitan Opera, will sing from Chicago.

A galaxy of operatic, concert, vaudeville and radio artists headed by John McCormack, renowned Irish tenor whose first talking picture opened in

New York last night, will feature the RCA-Victor hour over the NBC network at 9:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The Pastor Says:

The humanist's notion of prevailing prayer is to talk into a telephone whose wire is cut . . . While the fairway is a pleasant part of life's course, we should accept the bunker in a sportsmanlike spirit.—John Andrew Holmes.
